

With Agenda 2030 for Sustainable Development, the international community expresses its conviction that global challenges can only be met through joint action. The Agenda creates the basis for shaping global economic progress in harmony with social justice and within the framework of the earth's ecological limits. At the heart of the Agenda is an ambitious set of 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). For the first time, the 17 SDGs take all three dimensions of sustainability - social, environmental and economic - into account.

APPLICATIO orients its work towards these sustainability goals of the United Nations and thus contributes to the achievement of these goals worldwide and in the respective project countries and regions. APPLICATIO focuses on the following SDGs:

Further information can be found in the project references for each SDG.